

RNFOO Nurses in Practice Sponsored Awards

The 2024 RNFOO Nurses in Practice Awards include a few awards that are sponsored by partner organizations. For each of these awards, applicants will be asked for statements demonstrating that their goals are in line with the purpose of the award. There is a $30 application fee for these awards, to help cover the costs of administering this program.

The DNIG Special Projects in Diabetes Nursing will provide an opportunity to an RN who wishes to complete a special project focusing on diabetes. The applicant must

- have proof of significant interest in diabetes research, education, and care
- be currently practicing, or intending to practice, in the field
- identify administrative support for the project
- be a member of the RNAO Diabetes Nursing Interest Group for at least one year
- submit a project proposal, including budget

Applicants who have received a previous award from DNIG are not eligible for this award. The value of this award is $1,000.

The PCNIG Dr. Christine Newman Memorial Award will support a nurse a nurse enrolled in CNA certification in hospice palliative care (Canadian Hospice Palliative Care Nursing Certification CHPCN) or in a course recognized as preparation for certification, to further their commitment to the care of persons and their families facing a diagnosis that would benefit from a palliative care approach. Preference will be given to those who are members of the PCNIG*.

Applicants must provide proof of enrollment in a course, or payment of the certification exam fee in 2024.

The value of this award is $1,000.

The WeRPN Post PN Program Award will support a Registered Practical Nurse pursuing ongoing education (Continuing Education or RPN to RN Bridging Program) that will enhance patient care and patient outcomes. Applicants need not be enrolled in a degree program. Applicants must demonstrate a patient-centred approach to care.

Applicants enrolled in an RPN to RN program or an ongoing continuing education course will need to provide proof of enrollment in the current year (2024).

Applicants registered for a continuing education event (ie conference), must provide receipts for conference registration, accommodation, and travel (least expensive travel option).

The event must take place with the 2024 calendar year.

The value of this award is $1,000 for applicants in an RPN to RN program. For applicants taking continuing education, the value of the award is up to $1,000. (Amount will be determined by receipts submitted.)

**If the selected applicant is not a member of PCNIG, part of scholarship will be used to secure their membership.*
